

SHEFFIELD TABLE TENNIS LEAGUE

1931 – 2019

INTRODUCTION

The Sheffield & District Table Tennis League was founded in 1931 and has since been titled Sheffield & Hallamshire Table Tennis League before adopting the current Sheffield Table Tennis League - affiliation to The English Table Tennis Association appears to have been from the outset.

Ninety years on we are fortunate to still hold an original copy of the inaugural 1931 rule book along with most of the handbooks published, beginning 1934, until now. Historically, the League has included Church based clubs, youth groups and clubs formed within local businesses many of them large manufacturing companies These provided devoted recreational facilities for their workers, including, canteen space for table tennis during rest and out of working hours use. There was also provision of social clubs, with diverse sporting facilities, in which table tennis quickly established a strong presence.

There were 26 clubs, represented by 36 teams, entered for the 1933/4 STTL season, the first for which records are available. By the 1950/1 season, club entries had more than doubled to 59 fielding 103 teams – including 20 in two devoted women's divisions. Many clubs polarised into larger table tennis specific units and talent pathways developed within Sheffield as the league prospered; by 1981/2, the number of clubs had reached its peak of 56 clubs with more than 170 teams. Over the years, league memberships have included in excess of 300 hundred clubs.

Latterly, technology has provided time and cost saving opportunities which are widely accessible to all. It is for these reasons that we have now chosen to discontinue the provision of annual handbooks. However, it is important that the history of the league should not be lost, or, the efforts of those that made it happen, be forgotten. Accordingly, the remaining original handbooks have been handed to The Sheffield Central Library for safe keeping. We hope that the historical listings extracted from these books, which follow, will provide you with both interest and a route to any specific record that you seek.
