Frequently asked questions

- What is a round robin format?.....all players on your allocated table are guaranteed to play each other so if you lose you are not knocked out.

- I am a new player and play in the 5th division in my league but there are not many 5th divisions in other leagues, who will I play against?in this instance we will pick players in the lowest division with the lowest player average to try and match your ability
- Will I be playing against my team mate who has also entered?..... No, not necessarily, where possible we are aiming to mix the leagues so that you can play new players?
- I am 11 years old, can I play?.....Yes, as long as you play in a league and have a TTE membership you are able to play.
- I am a female player, will I be playing against other females?No, groups will be by ability not sex or age
- Who will win the overall tournament?.....There will be a winner per group and each group winner will receive an award. There will be an overall winner if the numbers are the same in each group. The overall winner would then be the group winner with the best results overall.
